Rich and Nutritious

It is absolutely the only milk substitute containing all the elements necessary for rapid and healthy growth, and the only calf meal that is thoroughly cooked and prepared for digestion.

Its richness in feeding value makes Blatchford's Calf Meal easily recognized as the best and most economical milk substitute. As proof of this we have to caution against over-feeding. A 50-pound bag of Blatchford's Calf Meal, the original milk substitute, is equal in feeding value to 50 gallons of whole milk, and will nourish a calf from the time it is four or five days old until it can eat ordinary feed. Another bag or two, combined with ordinary feed, will start it well on towards maturity.

The Aftermath of Action

(By Henry Chas. Suter)

ON CRUTCHES

When one thinks of a man fighting on crutches, one's thought naturally reverts also to the number of men exempted from military service because they were crippled in some way or other. But here is the story of one who did not quit the battle as it was even though crippled, and rather chose to continue in the fight even on crutches. In the battle of Amiens a commanding officer was wounded in both feet and was evacuated to the base hospital. About a month later he was unable to go into action with his men at the battle of Arras, but as his men came out of the struggle, this commanding officer went forth to meet them, riding on horseback with both feet swathed in bandages and flannel and with no boots on. This is only one of the heroic stories which, for the regiment, related to Wallis and again trained, preparatory to going into action at Cambrai, and all that time their crippled commander hobbled around on crutches. What a source of inspiration and what an incentive to noble endeavor to the men, when they saw their commanding officer hobbling over the rough ground, still maintaining the struggle and gradually fighting on crutches. Gradually his feet grew stronger, and the sticks were abandoned, and later on he led those men into battle at Cambrai with feet partly healed. Again he was wounded outside the village of Sannart, and still he held on and would not give up the fight. His courage and integrity was so strongly impressed on the whole regiment, and this was the secret of our success in the struggle and the heroism that has gotten us the victory. It is true that in the hour of danger a man is proven. Many a similar story might be written of those who fought and struggled, refusing to admit that they were beaten, and later on he led those men into battle at Cambrai with feet partly healed. Again he was wounded outside the village of Sannart, and still he held on and would not give up the fight. His courage and integrity was so strongly impressed on the whole regiment, and this was the secret of our success in the struggle and the heroism that has gotten us the victory.

A Righteous Pariah.—A clergyman who had recently taken charge of the parish was warned by a kindly lady that he was making a mistake in assuming in his sermons that the people of St. Stephen's were sinners. "When you have been here longer, doctor, you will learn what good people they are," she said. "At least not among the pariahs," said Harper's Magazine.

Superintendent of Nursing School Bay International Bathing Gives Best Results in Constipation.

Dr. R. M. Smythe, President and Superintendent, Dominion School of Nursing, Toronto, writes: "I have much pleasure in sending you a letter recommending the J.B.L. Cascade. I shall also be pleased to do so personally or by phone. From personal experience also from many patients who are using the J.B.L. Cascade I have no hesitation in recommending it to anyone with constipation or any trouble arising therefrom. It has been found in such cases as felt at once, and in my own case as well as others that have come directly under my notice. It has certainly been the means of bringing about many wonderful cures of constipation and many other troubles. I have much pleasure in recommending the Cascade."

So this beloved commander led his regiment one day back to Halifax, and as the people went forth to greet him and his men returning to the respite from war, they could not see much of the heroism in the commander, save for a few signs and tokens with which they decorated him. But then these were the bits of ribbon with which men are bedecked, but which do not, of necessity, proclaim the real hero, for after all they merely tell him something but not how he did it. For the truth was that on his arm he bore four stripes for wounds received and on his breast the D.S.O. and C.M.G. Of course these will tell of the valiant deeds he did and he will prize them, but what we know of him, he will cherish more the affection and esteem by which he is held in the hearts of the men he led to victory, and the fact for you and I to remember is that much of it was done on crutches.

SIR OLIVER LODGE A Platform Study.

Was it not Pope who wrote that the proper study of mankind is man? Certainly one of the most interesting places to study a man is when he is seen upon a public platform endeavoring at once to produce an effect upon, and to convey information to, an audience of his fellow-men. A singularly attractive opportunity for such a study was afforded an audience of 3000 people this week by a man whose name has become a household word among the English-speaking peoples of the world.

It will be interesting for a moment to examine the—to put it vulgarly—stock-in-trade with which Sir Oliver Lodge produced the remarkable effect which he did produce in the arena at Vancouver. While the circumstances in which an address is given, and the personal appearance of the speaker, both play an indirect part in the result he obtains, in the case under consideration the circumstances were singularly unattractive—especially for the consideration of so intimate a subject as the survival of bodily death. Even so large an audience as 3000 people, moreover, less lost in so vast an auditorium as the arena. Moreover, the atmosphere was cold, and some people were shivering before the close. It was a tribute to the speaker that, in these circumstances, hardly a dozen people left the building before the final sentences had fallen from his lips.

What of his methods? The writer has had the privilege of hearing some of the outstanding public speakers—political, religious and social—of our time. Many of these men have brought to their assistance the arts of the actor with which to improve their oratory. But he has seldom been impressed as his great scientific friend, yet Sir Oliver's methods are of the simplest; so simple, indeed, that they are hardly apparent. It was the triumph of personality and the natural man. He uses hardly any gesture. Occasionally he would raise his right hand and stroke the back of his head. Occasionally he would stroke his hands in his pockets, or his dress suit. Once he leaned to the side and knocked quickly twice upon a table when illustrating his point that, between those two knocks, he and his audience had travelled 19 million years, without being aware of the fact. Now and again he would place his hands upon the front of the chair before him, leaning forward as he spoke—these were the most impressive and intimate moments of his address. It was when he told his hearers: "One of your Canadian men won the love of my daughter, and he was killed in the air in the late war and has since communicated with her," that he leaned forward thus, and an added impressiveness was lent to his voice. Slow, very deliberate, vibrant his voice carrying to the farthest member of his great audience, Sir Oliver Lodge left an impression that will not easily be forgotten—"N. R." in Vancouver World.

SUGAR PRICES STILL GOING UP.

In response to the general upward tendency of sugar prices, the retail price in Calgary will be raised by one of the largest local firms from 21 to 22 cents a hundred pounds. The fact that the British Columbia sugar refinery is selling at a much lower figure than the figures quoted by the east, and the refinery is exerting a steady influence, but as old orders run out further advances are certain to occur. Delivery prices in the east vary greatly, the quotations in New York ranging from $17.50 to $23. The refinery has purchased large stocks of raws at 8 1/2 cents some months ago, when the United States buyers declined a similar opportunity to acquire cheap stocks. Cautiously would be paying more were it not for the fact that the old stocks are not run out. A price of 30 cents a pound is regarded as a possibility of the future.

THE REAL CAUSE OF HIGH PRICES.

A. W. Atwood in the Saturday Evening Post: Back of every discussion of the high cost of living, back of every aspect and conception of what is called profiteering, lies the stark, horrid fact which all the legislation and attorney generals on earth cannot alter, that the world is short of goods. The direct "punishment" for greedy profiteers will not prevail against the remorseless, inevitable effect of natural laws, and one of those laws has it that as long as production falls below consumption prices will rise. Catch every profiteer, bolt him alive in oil, and prices will continue to rise as long as people have about twice as much money with which to purchase as there are goods. The world is long on money and short of goods. High prices are only symptoms, like the headache in a cold. Prices are high all over the world, in Japan as well as Chicago, in Russia and Australia as well as New York.

DR. CLARK THE LEADER

Rumors to the effect that Dr. Michael Clark is an aspirant for senatorial appointment are gross exaggerations, at the very least, says the Calgary Albertan. Friends of Dr. Clark find it very difficult to imagine that active, progressive, bold free trader being forced into the senate to be herded with an aggregation so unbecomingly to his spirit. There are doubtless many people in Canada who would like to see Dr. Clark come with that herd, but Dr. Clark is not of them.

Just now Dr. Clark has a piece of fighting business on hand more to his taste than a peaceful berth in the upper house. Mr. Clark is absent from parliament through illness, and his place is being filled during the important budget discussion by the only genuine free-trader in parliament. As a private member, Dr. Clark has been the free and fearless exponent of his own radical views on the tariff at all times and under all circumstances. The cross benches, whom he is now leading temporarily, are the nearest to a free trade party to be found in Canada. Their leader, prominent, doubtless finds their moderate reservations as irksome and provoking as the first homesteader's barbed wire fence across the old trail. Nevertheless, to an old campaigner, even this restricted range is preferable to a permanent stall in the fat stock show.

THE POLICY OF DRIFT

The Minneapolis Journal, one of the leading journals of the west in the United States, has this to say regarding who shall rule the world in the future.

"Arthur Brisbane, editorial writer of the Hearst papers, says that Colonel House on the eve of the Paris Conference told him that there were only two Powers left in the world, Great Britain and the United States, and the question was which was to rule the world. Mr. Brisbane adds that Colonel House now says that the question is decided, that Britain will rule the world."

What is the situation? Britain has improved her opportunity and made her position as imperialist less shone. Secured by altruistic experiments, Britain is mistress of Europe as Napoleon at his greatest was not, as she herself never was after Waterloo or after Blenheim and Namur. Germany is dependent for her life upon Britain's moderation and long-sightedness. Belgium, France and Italy are British auxiliaries, however the position offends their pride. Japan is Britain's ally; the whole Eastern Hemisphere is the British sphere.

The pitch and summit of world-wide power has been attained by the British Empire, and her people are so well endowed with common sense, her statesmen are so well balanced that her opportunity, like that of the Romans before her, is not likely to be abused. The United States has elected to keep to the accustomed path. Who can say that to do so is not wisdom? But the election has been decided by groups among us who were animated by other than American considerations. So far as they were animated by hatred of England, they must recognize that they have defeated themselves. They have played into the British imperialists' hands. The only influence in the world capable of coping with Britain, of balancing British power, has been withdrawn from the consortium of the nations, leaving the Eastern Hemisphere to British direction.

If that were all, America itself might have cause to congratulate herself for avoiding anticipatively much trouble. But there is, unhappily, more. We have exhibited to the world our own inability as a people to act unselfishly as Americans upon matters of world-wide concern. We have displayed rancors that the world outside takes notice of; we have not merely refused to co-operate with friends, but have gone some way to warn those friends that we might become their enemies.

The United States is strong and is justified in relying to a great extent upon her strength. But the United States is not as strong as half of Europe, part of Asia, and some of Latin America put together, and to assume this is a rash and reckless policy.

No nation in the world as it is now, but needs friends. To undertake to do without friends is a hazardous adventure. To go to a way toward antagonizing those who might be friends, is stupid or worse.

The United States today is too great to be irremediable. She drifts, and because she drifts excites forebodings of those whose crafts are founded by a consistent and continuous policy.

W.C.T.U. MEETING

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Springbett, on Friday afternoon, April 30. In the absence of the President, the 1st Vice-President, Mrs. McVicar, presided.

An article, written for McLean's Magazine, by Mrs. Arthur Murphy, of Edmonton, dealing with the drug traffic, was read, also a couple of paragraphs from chapter VII. of the Boy Scouts Hand Book of Canada, dealing with drinking and smoking. These two paragraphs are particularly good, and we were glad to know that the teaching was included in the Boy Scout programme, now that such an impetus is being given the movement.

A solo by Mrs. F. D. McIntyre delighted those present.

A letter from the School Board, in answer to a request made in February for the use of the Assembly Hall one hour a week for the holding of L. Y. L. and Junior "Y" meetings, called forth a little criticism, especially after it became known that the Scouts were to have the use of the hall for drill every Tuesday night. As one worker in Edmonton said during the Y.W.C.A. campaign, "Why must women and girls be obliged to fight every inch of the way for what they want and need?" We hope the School Board will reconsider their decision, particularly re. Junior "Y," whose program is so similar to that of the Scouts.

A luncheon served at the close of the meeting was greatly appreciated. A meeting of the executive will be called soon to elect delegates to attend the district convention to be held in Watawin about the third week in May.

BASEBALL CLUB ORGANIZED

An organization meeting was held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening for the purpose of getting under way for the 1920 season. There was only a fair turnout, other meetings making it impossible for a good many to attend.

The formation of a club was proceeded with, and officers elected as follows: President—G. G. Fulton. Vice-Pres.—T. A. Gaetz. Sec.—Treas.—Reg. Taylor. At-Large—J. W. Smith, P. W. Smith, P. NEWS WEEKLY SERMON

By Rev. G. D. Armstrong

From a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.—2 Tim. 3:15.

The proclamation, by the provincial government, of next Sunday as "Protestantism Day" is a superficial but significant acknowledgment of the responsibility of the church for the moral training of the children. The holding of a national conference on character education in relation to Canadian citizenship is a recognition that there are great defects in our present methods of education. Both of these incidents indicate an awakening of a sense of responsibility of the community for the welfare of Canada's greatest asset, its future citizenship.

The words of our text point out certain important truths concerning religious education which should not be overlooked. We should state in passing that another hopeful sign of the times is that the church itself is adopting generally the wiser policy of adapting its methods to the undeveloped life of childhood and is seeking to train the children in a way that is natural to them.

The duty of training children however rests primarily upon the parents, and however valuable the assistance of church and school may be, the first and most important factor in child-training is the home. The regeneration of society is accomplished, not by "picking brands from the burning," by awakening in a few individuals a consciousness of the divine; but rather by training generation after generation in the ways of truth and righteousness.

The faith of Timothy dwelt first in his grandmother Lois, then in his mother Eunice.

It is high time we should see that religion, instead of being a miraculous intervention of the divine spirit form without, is the normal life of man, and that it is as natural for a child to be religious as it is that it should learn to talk. Too long have we regarded the religious life as abnormal and its professors as a peculiar people. Conversion or the awakening of the soul is a normal experience of the adolescent period of our lives. It is as natural that we should be "born again" as it is that we should be born at all. The life of the soul is subject to the laws of God as truly as the life of the body.

Of course, our development varies with every individual and not all children are normal. It is possible for a person to be mature physically yet mentally and morally defective—he may have the body of a man full grown and the mentality or morality of a mere child. The church in its effort to mould lives over a common pattern, in its insistence upon the importance of its own methods and the building up of its own organization has not always recognized or interpreted the life of God in the persons it has under its care. That there is a serious leakage between the Sunday School and the church during the later period of adolescence, while it entails a severe loss upon the organization of the church, is not to be regarded necessarily as a decline of religion itself. Many a person has vivid and real experiences of religious life who could well unite with the parish church, but testifies "Lo God was in this place and I knew it not." Our emotional and ethical experiences are not usually properly labelled.

A thorough understanding of the scriptures will reveal to us the truth, that religion is a progressive unfolding of the divine life in man and that the operations of the spirit are infinitely manifold. Those who insist upon the validity of one form of religious life and worship to the exclusion of all others would do well to ponder upon the truth of this statement.

It is a marvelous truth that the life processes of the race are repeated in the life story of the individual. The history of the ages is repeated in the evolutionary changes which take place in the embryonic life of the unborn child. The progress of the race from animism to spiritualism is portrayed in a greater or lesser degree in the life of every person.

Those who have been inclined to ridicule the story of the garden of Eden as not historical, may well reflect upon its wonderful accuracy to the truths of our daily experience. The infant in the cradle reproduces primitive humanity—learning to talk corresponds with the development of language. As Adam learned the names of things, the doctrine of the fall of man relates itself to the moral awakening—the beginning of righteousness in the life of mankind.

The story of Adam, discarding the presence of God in the rustling of the leaves of the tree as God walked in the garden in the cool of the evening marks the rise of a sense of mystery, of wonder, of reverence, and worship which culminates in the mysteries of religion and the life of the spirit. The angel with the flaming sword guarding the gates of paradise is a poetic setting forth of the truth that the innocence of childhood must inevitably pass. The tender grace of a day that is dead can never come back to us. The institution of sacrifice, the giving of the moral law, the work of prophet and priest mark stages of humanity's progress leading up to the representative life, the ideal life, the perfect life of humanity as salvation is completed in the personality of Jesus Christ. All insight into the working of the human soul, all knowledge of truth, all progress in our moral life is of the very essence of "the faith which was in Christ Jesus," the way to salvation, the way to God. The content of salvation is to possess the mind of the Master—a Christ-like character.

While it is true, as I have already said, that the church has not always succeeded in interpreting and relating to itself the religious life of people, it is quite as true that many persons are failing to make the best of themselves, because they have not identified themselves with the Christian church. The church is the organization of all who love in the interest of all who live. Its purpose is to "instruct in righteousness that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

HIS GOOD ANGEL

Marcella went slowly down the garden walk, although she wanted to dance. Her feet seemed made for the purpose, and she was not at all light-stepping. Notwithstanding, she was tall and straight and slight as a willow stalk. Her clinging white gown was like a cloud about her, and she was near akin to the white-blossomed ranunculus swaying "gaily in the sunset breeze." But she was not a flower. Elbridge party—a little while the Andersons would call for her. It was like a fairy tale—this going in state—this being the first time she was to creep in modestly by the side door.

Indeed, at first she had not dared to think of going at all. Aunt Babb, who was a little of a dandy, had been against dancing and parties in general. Then there had been the matter of the dress. Marcella had been in a skimpy blue rag, worn for so long the whole village knew it.

Then all unaccountably a far-off city came to her mind. Babb checked with a note that ran:

"Spend this for Amy's little girl."

On top of that the Andersons had moved their home some a month earlier. Marcella had been born in their little home, and the Andersons thought they had the year before and then they did not forget it. So she was going to have a new home. This was the Ebriidge's grand entertainment.

The town had been agog over it since before the cards were out. It was a grand thing, and the Ebriidge Gray, heir and grandson. The would-be wise said it would also signalize the announcement of his betrothal to the daughter of the Earl of Lethbridge. said these wise ones, albeit very certain that she and her heart knew different. But the Earl of Lethbridge, Auntie Bab had kept a school for the very small children of Lethwist first families. Ebriidge Gray had been a student of the school, and he had been unmanageable unless allowed to sit beside Marcella and study her lessons.

He had been as jealous of her as any small Turk, even after he had outgrown Miss Weir's school. Indeed, until he came of the age of jackets and shyness he had not hesitated to claim her anywhere and everywhere, to frown sulkily if she smiled at another lad, even to take her to task for preferring girl friends. Then had come the Christmas pantomime, in which he had been fairy bridegroom, she fairy bride. After the wedding on the stage everybody had laughed and teased them so he turned on her as though it were her fault and rudely

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, April 30.

Cattle

Very few cattle of any grade were in the Calgary yards this week, and sales were so scattered that it is hard to get a fair idea of the market. At the packing houses on this account there was bidding a little stronger on the choice steers, the few really top steers made $14.25, which is higher than the same quality would have brought last week. Other sales were at $13.75, but outside of this, the market was quiet. Cows were a very light run. Some good feeders were sold at $10.50 and round steers, of good quality, ready for killing, are responsible for the light run.

* Very few hogs offered at the Calgary yards during the week, and prices were very low. The few offered were only two loads sold, one at $21.75 and the other, a very nice lot, brought $22.

Some storing has been done, but present prices are considered too high to warrant a large amount of carrying over a little higher. Calgary dealers paying for 400 to 50c on straight rough, heavy, medium and light, and fancy table butter worth up to 67c for 100 lbs. The market for all grades of flat prices unchanged. Potatoes are a very strong market and prices still are high. The market for all grades is up to $120 per ton. American buyers are taking over considerable quantities of the best grades of the market, and to the other side. Calgary market for all grades of rough stock for around $100 per ton.

Hay

Unfavorable weather has caused another rush for hay. Dealers in Calgary are still quoting hay on track at $100 to $105, and a little green feed is offered.

Hides

Prices have dropped as forecasted in The Examiner last week, and there is a general feeling of depression in all hides. Green salted butchers' hides from 16c to 18c; rough, fallow and black, 10c to 12c; kip, 8c to 12c; calf, 30c to 35c.

NOT WELL POSTED

Saturday Evening Post: A story is told of a loafer, who applied for a job to a boss. The boss was given a card to the superintendent of a job-building yard.

"I don't need no fool," said the boss. "I don't need no place where I can't find me a place where I can make a piece of money without no hard work and they'll fix you up."

"Who asked you to work?" demanded the boss. "Go down there and get a piece of this board and they'll fix you up."

The applicant did as instructed, but was back at the end of three days with no accomplishment that he was going to quit.

"What's the matter?" Don't you like to work?"

"I likes the job fine."

"Isn't the pay enough?"

"That's all right. It's as high as anybody's gittin'."

"Then, what's the trouble?"

"Well, it's like this, boss: I goes down there and the guy looks at me and says 'All right, and puts me on the pay roll. There ain't nothing wrong with that. He gives me a board and has it pretty soft. Then I notices a bird a-followin' of me every-where. I goes down there and he's behind me. So I'm scared, boss. I want to quit."

"Why, you blamed fool," said the boss, "go on back there. That guy's

Meaning of the Word “Semi-Ready”

As a trade mark name "Semi-ready was applied in 1897 to clothes tailored by the Semi-ready Company. It was a coined word, made up to identify men's clothes made by this Company.

Coupled with the name there was invented a physique system which permitted the unlimited tailoring of higher class woollens and materials without risk to the merchant of having any garments left in stock.

The trade mark name is registered, and under common law cannot be used by any other maker, nor rightly applied to any other clothes than those made in the Semi-ready tailor shops and for which we have the exclusive sale.

If you ask at any other store than ours for "Semi-ready," and you are shown something not of Semi-ready manufacture, you do not get what you ask for, which is unfair to you and to us.

If it hasn't the label in the pocket it isn't a "Semi-ready."

FRENCH GIRLS MAKE WAR ON BACHELORS

Would Force Recalcitrants into Connubial Line by Heavy Taxation.
Paris, April 15.—French girls threaten to launch a militant propaganda war against bachelordom.

Marriageable young women of the middle classes are protesting that the male of the species is "shirking" wedlock and wasting his time in cafes and on race-courses. They would force the recalcitrants into conubial line by "taxing celibacy to the limit," and adopting propaganda and picketing methods that have won women's battles in other countries. Demonstrations in cafes and at racecourses are threatened.

"France has need of children," they declare, "to repair the losses of war—and we are quite ready to fulfill our obligation to the country." While middle class femininity is in revolt, the marriage rate is soaring among the Paris poorer classes. Gray's immortal "Elegy" took him seven years to write.

SAYS HE RECEIVED MESSAGE FROM SIR OLIVER LODGE'S SON

(Calgary, Alberta, April 27)
What is claimed to be the most remarkable instance in Sir Oliver Lodge's tour throughout Canada was related to an Albertan representative at the Palliser Hotel last evening by Arthur Deighton, an art dealer of Edmonton, who claims that he communicated with Raymond Lodge, the dead son of Sir Oliver Lodge, and that he gave both Sir Oliver Lodge and Lady Lodge a message from their son. Dr. Bristol Purdy, of Edmonton, said he was in the room when Lady Lodge and Sir Oliver were given the message by Deighton.

According to Deighton, he gained access to the spirit world through the medium of a special ouija board which he had made. Mr. Deighton said that he was in Edmonton last week when he received a message from a medium to visit Calgary during the period of Sir Oliver Lodge's visit. He came to Calgary accompanied by Dr. Purdy, and after attending the Lodge lecture, he went to his suite at the Palliser and settled down at his ouija board. He said he got into communication with his great-grandfather, Major Frederick Deighton, who served in the Foot Guards, at London, England, during the reign of King William IV. Through his great-grandfather, he says he got into communication with Raymond Lodge, who asked him to give his mother, Lady Lodge, a message of hope as he feared she was slowly dying of grief.

Deighton then said that he obtained an introduction to Lady Lodge, advised her of the message, and was invited to visit the Lodge's suite in the Palliser where he relayed the son's message to the mother. In the middle of the message, Sir Oliver entered the room. As he was about to withdraw again, Mr. Deighton said that Raymond Lodge called out to his father to stay. At the conclusion of Raymond Lodge's message to his parents he advised them that he would watch over them and prepare everything for them "when you come home."

Mr. Deighton said that Sir Oliver and Lady Lodge were greatly impressed by the event, and he quoted the distinguished couple as saying "that it was the most remarkable instance of our Canadian tour."

Mr. Deighton also claims that he received messages for Tyrone Power and his company from Sir Henry Irving.

Mr. Deighton formerly lived at Red Deer, where his wife, Madame Ruth Hope, was well known as a gifted violinist and music teacher.

GREATER BERLIN IS CREATED BY BILL

Berlin, April 25.—The diet has approved a bill creating a new greater Berlin, which, in point of area, 662 square kilometres, ranks with New York. The extreme southeastern city limits will be a distance of 25 kilometres from the former imperial palace, which is the hub of the city.

AN EXPLANATION

Red Deer, April 29, 1920.
Dear Mr. Editor:—
In view of the disappointment felt by many who attended the meeting in the Presbyterian church last Tuesday night, we feel that some explanation is due the public who were, perhaps, encouraged to attend through our invitation.

The matter was first presented to us by the receipt of the following letter: "A delegation of British Brotherhood men are now touring Canada in the interest of world brotherhood, and at present are holding some very interesting and helpful meetings in the East. On their way from Edmonton to Calgary, they want to spend the evening in Red Deer, if the churches and the city want them, and a suitable meeting can be arranged. And I am willing to ask if you will confer with the other ministers and representative citizens and see if a meeting can be arranged for Tuesday April 27." The principal speaker will be Sir Richard Winfrey, M.P., late secretary of agriculture of the British Government. He is lecturing under the auspices of the World Brotherhood Federation, and besides speaking in churches in addressing Rotary clubs, Kiwanis clubs, Canadian clubs, boards of trade, G.O.A.s, U.F.A.s, and all other groups of men who are interested in the welfare of the community, the nation and the world."

"H. M. BELL."
Acting in good faith we consulted a few citizens who all expressed the desire to have Sir Richard Winfrey visit us. Accordingly the meeting was arranged. On Friday, April 24, Mr. Bell (the writer of the above letter) visited Red Deer in connection with the meeting, and apparently did not know then that Sir Richard was not in Canada, as he gave no intimation of this fact. We only knew that Sir Richard was not coming when the party detained at Red Deer at noon on Tuesday for the meeting.

We regret the disappointment and trust that this explanation will serve to show that we were in exactly the same position as the public generally.

MILLINERY

Our Unusual Millinery Connections make it easy for us to excell both in styles and values.

You can get as much style and quality at Lord's as in the largest city stores anywhere, while you pay very little more than half the price.

We want your order, please, whether it is a cheap little "knock-about" or something real nifty.

Your good taste and your pocketbook will approve.

Compared with Present Values,
Three-quarters of our Stock is Being Sold at Sale Prices.

This applies particularly to Staple Dry Goods, including All-Wool Serges, and Dress Materials, English and Canadian Cottons, Ginghams, Shirts, Galateas, Prints, Flannelettes, Sheetings, Cottonades, Denims, Ducks, and Flannelette Blankets.

Staple lines of Solid Leather Boots, Men's Clothing and Underwear, and two lines of Men's Overalls.

And there are a few lines in the Boys' Section which are particularly good.

Women's Underwear Values are very attractive, and our stock is still in pretty fair shape.

Hosiery, too, is a strong line. Two years ago we bought so much staple hosiery, that it looked when the stock arrived as if the man who bought the stock had lost his head entirely. (We would not mention his name, but his initials are W. E. L.) But our customers are still getting the benefit of our taking a chance when the buying was very much better than it is today; and there are hundreds of other lines which we will not take space to mention.

Grocery Department

Grocery Prices also help to hold down the cost of living for our customers, and the stock is always of the best quality and fresh.

We take this opportunity of expressing our regret in that our Delivery Service recently has not been up to our standard, which is explained in our equipment having been too light to cope with the street conditions. We are now making a change in arrangements, and in a few days we hope to be able to guarantee a first class Delivery Service again.

Men's Tweed Raincoats

Our values in Men's Tweed Raincoats cannot be excelled. For the most serviceable coat the year round, ask to see our special values at $25.00 and $30.00 while our stock is complete. It will be a pleasure to show you.

Prices $20.00, $22.50, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00

Make them yield 100 per cent., instead of letting gophers destroy 30 per cent.

The Farmer who keeps gophers working against heavy odds. Gophers mean small profits. There is no longer any reason why they should rob you of your crops, even if your farm is infested with thousands of gophers, even though you have tried all kinds of poisons for this nuisance and had poor success there is still one safe, sure, proven way to get rid of these profit killing pests—feed them

Yesterday was Arbor Day and a bank holiday. Owing to the late season nothing was done in Red Deer.
The regular meeting of the Sons of England will be held in the Alexandra Hall on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

T. H. Kelsey, of the Northern Life Insurance Company, left Friday last for Moose Jaw to take up insurance work in that city.
The St. Luke's choir will hold a ten cent tea and sale of home made cooking, potatoes and eggs and butter, at Alexandra Hall, Saturday afternoon, May 8th, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The choir of St. Luke's Church are holding a ten cent tea and sale of home made cooking in Alexandra Hall, Saturday afternoon. They want everybody to come.
The pupils of Madam Le Saulnier will give their annual recital in the assembly hall of the public school this Wednesday evening, assisted by the Red Deer Quartette.

The fire alarm sounded Sunday afternoon, and the Brigade traveled out promptly to a chimney blazing on a small building near the old mattress factory on 2nd Street North. No damage.

Sgt. Jack Hanna, of the Mounted Police, Calgary, was in the city a few days ago, and took two young men named McKay in charge on instructions from the Emigration Department, having entered Canada from the States under false signatures.

Several citizens were up before the bench during the past week for driving over the boulevards. They were fined the minimum fee of $2 and costs. This is a warning to others. If the offence is repeated a heavier penalty will be imposed.

Madam Le Saulnier and the following seven of her pupils are going to Edmonton tomorrow night to hear the great Polish master pianist, Leopold Godowsky, namely, Miss Nona Quigley, Miss Zelma Moyas, Miss Lillie Reinhold, Miss Emily Steinsson, Miss Gertrude Connors, Miss Betty Mahaffy and Master Eugene Murphy.

Mrs. W. R. Black writes from Cumberland Bay, Queens Co., N.B., R.R. No. 3, that they are now nicely settled on their 200 acre farm right on the border of the Grand Lake, where steamers ply to St. John up the river. They can see the smoke from the coal mines over the lake, on a clear day, at Minto. The lake is much larger than Sylvan Lake.

The Hudson Bay Company is celebrating its 250th anniversary this week, and on Friday there will be a great gathering of old veterans of the Royal North West Mounted Police at Edmonton. Among those who will probably go from Red Deer are Inspector Fisher and Sgt. Smith, of the A.P.P., and J. C. Brazier and W. M. Jarvis, old troopers of the force.

Farmers will realize the need for good tractors this spring more than ever before, and more particularly will they realize that it must be the right tractor. Watch The News next week for big advertisement of Gray Tractors, the only practical tractor for all purposes and conditions. The wide drive drum neither bogs nor cuts out. Grays have no differentials and no bevel gears.

At the Municipal District Council of Pine Lake, held yesterday afternoon, the rate was raised from seven to eight and three-quarter cents per acre. Wages were raised in proportion. A man and team 75c per hour; man and team 2, $1.00 per hour; Labor, 40c per hour. Foreman, 50c per hour. There was a full council present, and considerable business was transacted. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 31st.

The choir of the Methodist Church is being most highly complimented this week on the very fine musical programme presented last Sunday evening on the occasion of the church's anniversary services. The choir, assisted on that occasion by Mrs. (Dr.) C. W. Sanders, violinist, Mr. Ernest Parr and Mr. E. G. Johns, numbered twenty voices, the soloists being Miss Edna Cardwell, soprano, Miss Evelyn Brington, contralto, Mr. Reg. Taylor, baritone, Mr. E. G. Johns, tenor, Mr. Ernest Parr, bass. Mr. J. E. Welton the organist and choirmaster, is very proud of the choir as at present organized, containing as it does more soloists than at any time during the past ten years. The work of these soloists on Sunday evening last was, without exception, a very high order. The work of the choir as a whole was most pleasing, the attack, expression and intonation being very fine. The violin obligato by Mrs. Sanders, in the anthem "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Schneck, and her solo "Lara," during the offertory, proved highly pleasing, and assisted very largely in making the service one which will be remembered for a long time.

RECOGNIZING MR. PARR'S VALUABLE WORK

Canmore Canadian.—The choir of the Methodist church lingered for a few moments at the close of the evening service last Sunday evening to do "good-bye" to Mr. Ernest Parr, the organist and choir leader—both of the junior and senior choirs. Mr. Parr is moving this week to Red Deer, having received the position of manager of the Red Deer Grocery Co. Many complimentary remarks were said of the splendid and unselfish service rendered by Mr. Parr in the musical circles of the church, to which Mr. Parr feelingly replied. Mr. Parr carries away with him a gold wrist watch as a little token of the esteem of the board and congregation. The very best wishes of all go with him for future success and prosperity.
